Who are we and what do we do with your personal data?

Fondazione AIS, based in via Farini 6, 40124 Bologna, Italy, hereinafter the Data Controller, protects the confidentiality of your personal data and provides it with the necessary protection from any event that may put it at risk of violation.

For this purpose, the Data Controller implements policies and practices regarding the collection and use of personal data and the exercise of your rights under applicable law. The Data Controller is responsible for updating the policies and practices adopted for the protection of personal data whenever necessary and in any case in the event of regulatory and organisational changes that may affect the processing of your personal data.

How the Data Controller collects and processes your data?

Your personal information will be processed for:

1) Website Navigation

The processing of your personal data, such as navigation data e.g. IP address and cookies issued by browsing the website are processed by the Data Controller to follow up the management of the site www.fondazioneais.org and to collect information also of an aggregate nature.

Your personal data will in no way be disseminated or disclosed to undetermined subjects.

2) Communication to third parties and recipients

The communication of your personal data takes place mainly towards third parties and/or recipients whose activity is necessary for the performance of the activities related to the aforementioned purposes, and also to respond to certain legal obligations. Any communication that does not respond to these purposes will be subject to your consent.

In particular, your data will be disclosed to third parties/recipients for:

1. the service performance (e.g. IT service provider);
2. communication to the financial administration and to the Public supervisory and control bodies in respect of which the Data Controller must fulfill specific obligations deriving from the specific nature of the activity carried out;

The personal data that the Data Controller processes for this purpose are:

- o browsing data (IP address)

3) IT Security reasons

The Data Controller processes, also through its suppliers (third parties and/or recipients), your personal data (e.g. IP address) or collected data traffic, obtained, in case of services displayed on the website, to a strictly necessary and proportionate measure to ensure the security and ability of a network or servers connected to it, at a given level of security, unforesee events or illegal or malicious acts that compromise the availability, authenticity, integrity and confidentiality of stored or transmitted personal data.

For these purposes, the Data Controller provides procedures for the management of the personal data violation (data breach).

What cookies are and for what purposes they can be used?

A "cookie" is a small text file created by some websites on the user's computer when the user accesses a particular site, with the purpose of storing and transporting information. Cookies are sent from a web server (which is the computer on which the visited website is running) to the user's browser (Internet Explorer, Mozilla Firefox, Google Chrome, etc.) and stored on the latter's computer; they are then re-sent to the website at the time of subsequent visits.

Some operations could not be performed without the use of cookies, which, in some cases, are therefore technically necessary. In other cases the site uses cookies to facilitate and facilitate the navigation by the user or to allow them to use services specifically required.

Cookies can remain in the system for long periods and may also contain a unique identification code. This allows sites that use them to keep track of user's browsing, for statistical or advertising purposes, to create a profile from the pages that the user has visited and show and/or send targeted advertising (c.d. Behavioural Advertising).

Which cookies are used and for what main purpose?
